Question: When did you start decide to enter deaf life...

Answer: I did not enter at the opening of the war on account of waiting to get started working on the CPR. At which time my memory is would carry on during... this was in the early 1910s... I remember now, "right" after finishing the war in Camp Hughes for this, for the summer until harvest time. At which time... with... we went out and helped farmers in the Saskatchewan in the Redoubt... (chuckles)... and at the end of the war and the ending with the heading with while our war harvest have continued, after which we stayed in camp until November, expecting to go overseas at last, but instead we were moved to Regina where we stayed in the winter for building up from November until around early March. In March we started back to our job around the North Route with arriving in Ottawa early in the morning and marched up the main street to the parliament buildings and they then back

Date Range: October 28, 1982

Physical Description: 1 audio cassette [00:30:00]

History /

Biographical:

Oswald Clayton Farley was born on January 7, 1908 on SE 13-11-17 near Douglas, MB.

Clayton grew up in the Derry district where he received his schooling. As a young man Clayton enjoyed curling, winning major curling events in Winnipeg (1936) and Flin Flon (1937). He loved life on the farm, and particularly enjoyed goose hunting.

Gladys Adelene Whaley was born on February 21, 1908 in the Carberry district. She attended Stinston and Derry schools, but as the eldest child, she laboured to help her parents and siblings as they moved about from farm to farm. In her teens, Gladys decided to move to Brandon, where she worked as a maid for Judge Whitby Kerr and his family. She worked for the Kerrs for nine years, sending a portion of her wages home to help her family.

Gladys married Clayton on November 9, 1937, after a long courtship. They had no children. After their marriage, the couple took up residence in the Douglas district where Clayton farmed and Gladys was active in the community. A member in both the Douglas and Carberry United Church, Gladys was also a founding member of the Douglas Women's Institute, hosted quilting bees, and served as chair of the Douglas Centennial Book Committee. The couple moved to Carberry in 1992. In both Douglas and Carberry the Farley's were known for their hospitality. Clayton Farley died on February 13, 1996 in Carberry, MB. Gladys Farley died on May 14, 2004 in Carberry, MB. They are both buried at Madford Cemetery.

History /

Biographical:

Charles Lemington Norman "Lem" Shuttleworth was born on September 28, 1910 on the family homestead in the RM of Odanah near Minnedosa, MB. He attended school at Rookhurst, Moore Park and the Manitoba College of Agriculture. A farmer, Lem started his career in politics as Reeve of the RM of Odanah. In 1949, he was elected to the provincial legislature serving as a cabinet minister until 1959 for Agriculture and Public Utilities in the government of Premier Douglas Campbell. In 1965, he was appointed as a member of the Canadian Board of Grain Commissioners; during this period he chaired a committee conducting a complete revision of the Canadian Grains Act. Lem was appointed the first chairman of the Board of the Canadian International Grains Institute in 1972.

Lem married Charlotte May Sedgwick (1912-1981) on September 25, 1935 and together they raised two children: Elaine and David. The family lived on the home farm and although they moved to Winnipeg in 1953, they continued to operate the farm. In 1977, Lem retired and he and Charlotte returned to the home farm near Minnedosa. In 1982, Lem received a Certificate of Merit from the University of Manitoba for his contribution in the field of agriculture, and in 1996, he was inducted as a member of the Manitoba Agricultural Hall of Fame. In retirement, Lem volunteered at the Minnedosa Heritage Museum, was an active member of the Prince of Wales Masonic Lodge, the Rotary Club of Minnedosa and the Minnedosa United Church. In 1995, Lem married his third wife, Mae Johnson. In 2001, Lem donated the family farm near Minnedosa to the University of Manitoba for research purposes. The land was subsequently known as the Shuttleworth Research Farm. Lem Shuttleworth died on April 13, 2006 in Minnedosa, MB. He is buried at Minnedosa Cemetery.
