S. V. M. CONVENTION GREAT SUCCESS

Delegates to Detroit Present Inspiring Message.

"In Christ there is no East or West, In Him no South or North. But one great fellowship of love, Throughout the whole wide earth."

The above quotation from one of the Convention hymns seems to accurately characterize the 10th Quadrennial Convention of the Student Volunteer Movement. The whole gathering seemed to become permeated with a spirit of mutual understanding and tolerance. In many ways it was entirely different from any of its predecessors. Previous conventions attempted to gather together a large body of students and by means of a knowledge of crowd, or "convention" psychology to create a peculiar complex which would result in many signatures for foreign mission service. But these methods have become obsolete now, so that instead of a registration of 6000 as at Indianapolis in 1923 there were only 3500 delegates at Detroit, and there was no evidence of any wild emotionalism. Christianity was the central theme of course, yes, but not a thin emasculated sentimental type of Christianity. This had to make way for the demand for men of courage and alertness.

The whole convention was undenominational and international in feeling and outlook, the platforms particularly being catholic and non-American. Dr. Hodgkin, a Britisher; Dr. Akagi, a Japanese; Max Yergan, of South Africa; Dr. Roberts, of Canada; Dr. Mackay, of Scotland; Mr. Dipeola, of Nigeria; Dr. Robert Speer, Dr. Sherwood Eddy and Dr. John R. Nott, and others made a noble galaxy of speakers who could present the present day mission problem in its true light.

The morning sessions beginning at 9.30 broke up at 10.30 to make way for the Colloquia. In these 35 groups of about 100 each some of the best discussions of the convention took place. There the problems arising out of the platform addresses were put forward and threshed out by the students.

The following are a few of the questions dealt with:—"Is America Christian?" "Is it not the height of audacity for us to talk about sharing a gospel of love?" "What must be our relation to war?" "Are Missionaries wanted any more? If so, what is to be the new basis of missionary propaganda?" "How about denominationalism?"

It is readily seen that the answers to such questions as the above could not be definitely reached in such a short time, but they served to set the students thinking, and examining their own lives, their motives and attitudes.

HOCKEY TEAM JOINS LEAGUE.

College Hopes to Win Laurels on Ice.

Brandon College has at last invaded the field of city hockey in the entry to the second half of the Commercial Hockey League. It had been hoped earlier in the season to have entered the City Junior League, but the non-formation of that league prevented such and in the meantime teams of other leagues signed up some of the college stars so that the team has played minus their services.

So far, three starts, has resulted in no wins, but the scores of the various games have been by no means one sided. Each was keenly contested and only the lack of finish that comes with a longer training period has lost the games as is indicated by the scores of 1-0, 4-2, and 3-2.

Captain Gainer promises a stiff jolt a tanning and a hard run to the Brewsters, the Hides and Leathers and the Taxis in the next encounters.

Board Report.

An unusually large number of the members of the Board of Directors of the College gathered for the annual meeting on the evening of January 24th. This large meeting was in part possible by reason of the fact that the annual meeting of the Board of the Baptist Union of Western Canada was held in Brandon at the same time this year and persons from a distance who are members of both bodies were able to attend.

The Board was particularly gratified at the splendid report of the year's work and general conditions of college life and activity presented by Dr. J. R. Evans, Acting Dean. They expressed themselves as being particularly gratified in the leadership of Dr. Evans and in the fine standard of ability and co-operation on the part of the faculty as a whole. Over and over again expressions were heard regarding the very great value of the School to the life of Western Canada in the quality of the young men and women who go out from its halls from year to year.

The financial statement presented by the Bursar, Mr. E. Scott Eaton, that even in the face of rather strenuous conditions the work of the college is being well sustained. The College Board recognizes that it is particularly fortunate in having a man of Mr. Eaton's outstanding ability along financial lines to represent its needs to the constituency at large. The hearty greetings of the Board are extended to the entire college body, with best wishes that this year may prove to be the best in the history of our College.

This report for 1927 covers parts of two college years, the second and third terms of 1926-27 and the first term of 1927-28.

Attention should be called to the fact that during the year covered by the report, the College was without a President. This lack was felt keenly in the life of the College but in spite of that fact, under the leadership of Dean MacNeill and by the hearty co-operation of the entire Faculty, the work of the year was carried on with success.

The registration for the past school year is as follows: Arts, 183; Acadmy, 56; Music, 152; Expression, 3;; Total, 421.

The enrolment for the present school, 1927-28, is not yet complete. A number have registered since Christmas, and in some departments students are still coming in so that there is every reason to expect that last year's total will be passed before the present school year is closed.

A comparison between the enrolment of the present school year and that of last year, taken on Dec. 31, in each case, shows a slight increase in Arts, a decrease in Academy, a substantial increase in Music, and a considerable decrease in Expression. The decrease in the Academy enrolment is due, in part at least, to the fact that Grade IX work has been dropped from the program this year, while the decrease in Expression no doubt is due to the late opening of that department last fall.

As to be expected, most of our students come from Manitoba; but while this is true, we have a good representation from each of the three Western Provinces.

COLLEGE GIRLS PLAY Y.W.C.A. TEAM FROM WINNIPEG HERE.

There is a treat in store for all interested in Basketball. The College girls are having the privilege of playing the Winnipeg Y. W. C. A. team Saturday, February 11th at the local Y. M. C. A. gymnasium. The visitors compose a splendid team and have met with great success in their games in Winnipeg. But we also have a team, that we as a College, are justly proud of. Let's all turn out at the game Saturday night to support our girls and give the visitors a royal welcome. A great game is in store for us..

EDITORIAL.

To every man that openeth
A way, and ways and a way,
And the High Soul climbs the High Way,
And the Low Soul gropes the Low,
And in between, on the misty flats,
The rest drift to and fro.
But to every man, there openeth
A High Way, and a Low,
And every man decideth
The way his Soul shall go."

Mid-year examinations are now completed. Through them we have been enabled "to check up" on ourselves and to see exactly how much we have achieved in the realms of books. When we came in, in the fall, there was opened to us "A High Way, and a Low." Examination results will show which way each of us has chosen.

This appraisal of ourselves as students, however is forced upon us; therein, lies the only reason that one is ever made. Most of us are to lazy, too careless of whither we are drifting, to stop of our own record and make an inventory of ourselves. It were better perhaps, if we were obliged to meet other tests as well. We should ask ourselves: "Are we fulfilling our duties as members of the student body, as officers in the various student activities?" In what way have we determined that our souls shall go? Or rather, have we thought about the problem sufficiently to be following any definite course—whether it be "The High Way, or the Low"? Are we not drifting along, following the course of least resistance, with no thought of our responsibility to ourselves, to our fellow students and our College? How many of us are there who last spring and at the beginning of this school year were regarded by the Senior Officers of the Association and by the Faculty as students who had the ability and the will to fill important places in College life? Have we measured up to their expectations? To speak vulgarly "Have we come across with the goods?"

We must realize that in becoming members of the student body, in accepting offices in the Association we take on responsibilities which may prove to be heavy. NEVERTHELESS WE MUST FULFILL THEM. These duties must take First place in our lives. They have been entrusted to us by our fellow students. In accepting them we have bound ourselves to their fulfillment, and the Association has the right to demand that we meet our obligation.

But responsibility lies not only with the officers of the Association, but with each and every student. As individual members we must give our hearty co-operation and support to the officers we have elected. Unless we do no student enterprise can meet with success; and what is equally important, neither can we ourselves. In neglecting our duty to our College we are choosing "the Low Way" which we shall travel throughout our lives.

Unless we would be branded with the name "slackers", we must seize the opportunity at the beginning of a new term "to check up" on ourselves and see in what we are wanting. The challenge faces us—Quo Vadis—whither goest thou?

THE DEBATING SOCIETY.

The Lit. of Friday, Feb. 3rd, was held under the auspices of the Debating Society, with Dr. Dadson presiding. An appreciative, though not large, audience was in attendance, and enjoyed to the full the presentations of the different departments.

The first item on the program was a spelling match, with Senior Arts, Junior Arts, and Hash participating. It was a terrible test. More than one stately Senior trembled in his shoes, and with good effect. Slowly and surely the ranks of the Seniors were thinned. The ranks of Hash then suffered depletion. The final result rested with Junior Arts, due to the proficiency of Miss Bremner.

No sweeter music ever delighted the ears of the Muses than that which delighted the audience that night. Messrs. Black, Hawson, Wilson and Wilkie showed the thoroughness of their rural trainings by staging an "Old Time Fiddlers' Contest." Each selection was rendered with pedal accompaniment, and anyone who doubts that any of the aforesaid gentlemen are musical, only needs to watch their "dew-beaters" at work.

Item number three was a novelty number, and if it did not, should have, moved many to tears. Pyramus and Thisbe, an old story, but ever presentable in new form, was presented. With pleading words "Dink" Derby played the faithful Pyramus; Adamantine Brooks, the wall; Don Lowe, the terrible lion; "Ambish" Gainer, the moon; and last but not least Neil Derby, the charming Thisbe. It can be said without fear of refutation that Thisbe was true to form. Her sweet personality, and charming modesty, won the hearts of all those present, and the abandon with which she threw away her interfering garments in the interests of speed, are to be commended, even for a marathon runner.

Junior Arts' part in the Novelty Contest was filled by Miss Robertson, who ably presented two recitations, one of which was a modern version of Lochinvar and created much interest.

Hash presented "The Fatal Quest" a very touching tragedy. The heart strings were stretched to the maximum at the dulcet sound of the Duke's voice. It is regrettable that his labors ended so fatally, that such an ardent soul should perish in the pursuit of love.

The last item of the Lit program was a debate "Resolved that Face Powder has done more harm to the world than Gunpowder or Baking Powder." Senior Arts was represented by the "Cake Eaters" featuring "Mac" Malcomson and Mr. Hawson. Junior Arts by the "Powder Monkeys" featuring "Mickey" Maltman and "Peanut" Umphrey; and the Hash by the "Safe-blowers" featuring Mr. Jarrett and _____

The claims of Hash were ably presented. With flowery eloquence and profound logic the Seniors presented their arguments. But the "illustrations" of Mickey and the Ciceronian gestures of "Peanut" coupled with authoritative statements won the debate for Junior Arts.

THE DIRGE OF EXAMS.

Falls on our ears from its dull, grey mist
The sound of the Future's mournful "List"!
In a voice that chills to the bone:
"I am the coming Examination!
Here am I come to seek my station,
Here do I seek my own!"
And those that know the voice they hear
Are suddenly stricken with trembling fear;
And would to recall the wasted year,
Though that happy hour is flown.
At last the hour of doom is nigh—
Each one resolved to "do or die"—
Has crammed with might and main;
The midnight oil has burned away—
The rising sun brings on the day—
Oh! should those hours be vain!
But one by one the days pass on,
And soon the whole dread week is gone,
The battle fought, the victory won,
And sunshine follows rain.
The future now is bright as gold,
The new term comes, gone is the old,
But memory lingers still;
That memory will our work inspire
And into toil put zest and fire
That surmounts Glory's Hill.
And though behind are loss and sorrow,
Still will the dawn be bright to-morrow,
And then the victory will follow
To those who work and will.
—Willa Robertson.

COLLEGE WINS FIRST HALF CITY LEAGUE.

The Girls' Basketball Team is continuing its unbroken series of successes. Thursday evening, Jan. 26th, they played the first game of the 1928 season against their old rivals, the Collegiate girls. Whenever these two teams meet on the gymnasium floor an exciting game is assured. After the grind of examinations, and consequent lack of practice, the College girls found the game strenuous at first but showed better form during the second period. They gained a 32-16 score victory and thus won the first half of the City League.

We are indeed proud of our Girls Basketball Team of 1927-28. They have never met defeat and we wish them every success in the future and pledge them our heartiest support.

The line-up is as follows: Forwards, Anne Foster, Evelyn Doig, Jean Gammon; Centre, Jerrie Balmer; Guards, Ruth Bingham, Jean Doig, Ella Bowering, Helen Ball.

OUR LIGHTER MOMENTS.

During the period when the students were accomplishing the hardest work of the year, the faculty were seizing the opportunity to make gay. Tobogganing, sleighing and hiking have become favorite pastimes. At the conclusion of the sleighing party the men of Brandon College were regaled by a quantity of tomato bouillon which the faculty, in the kindness of their hearts, sent to them.

At the conclusion of the "Lit." which Academy presented to the Student Association, the members of Academy met in the club room to celebrate the success of their entertainment. Music and refreshments made this occasion a very festive one.

Among those who are absent from Clark Hall this week end are: Miss Moffatt, Mona Cuthbert, Dorothy Dewar, Julia Reekie, Laura Shanks, and Winnie Bromley.

On Saturday, February 4th, the girls of first floor were "At Home" to the other residents of Clark Hall in the Clark Hall Reception room. The guests were received by Miss G. Balmer and Miss M. Bullock. Mrs. Wright presided at the tea table which was prettily decorated by yellow tapers and yellow daffodils. The color scheme of white and yellow was effectively used throughout. Those assisting were the Misses Eleanor Squires, Wilhemina Malcolmson and Evelyn Bowes.

Doris Cochrane was a busy hostess last week-end. On Sunday she entertained some of the members of '28 at a very pleasant social evening. Monday evening she was a bridge hostess to some enterprising members of the class. Harold Gainer distinguished himself by his wild and reckless methods of playing but was able to congratulate Bill Derby heartily upon winning the gentleman's prize. Miss Eunice Bullard received the ladies' prize.

The members of Arts III were entertained by two members of their class, Helen Duncan and Constance Lamontagne, on Tuesday last. The class spent a most enjoyable time tobogganing at Sykes and then returned to the home of Helen Duncan to spend the rest of the evening in games and partaking of the much appreciated refreshments.

Miss Marguerite Sexton, having recovered from her recent illness, has returned to her home at Regent, Man.

On Thursday, January 26th, the members of the faculty received the board members in the Clark Hall reception room. The guests were received by Mrs. W. L. Wright. Mrs. Darrach presided at the tea table and those assisting were the Misses M. Bulloch, E. Bowes, E. Bowering, and D. Bingham. Misses H. Mann, J. Reekie, and G. Balmer conducted the Board on a tour of inspection in Clark Hall.

ACADEMY LIT.

On Friday evening, January 27th, the Academy students presented their literary program. A rollicking four-act comedy, "The Senior Stick", characterizing life in Brandon College, was the feature of the programme. Many were the laugh provoking situations, and here and there were found speeches of real wisdom. The cast of characters was as follows: :

Bob, Senior Stick ..... Cecil Ryder
Mary, in love with Bob....

Mona Cuthbert

Aunt Sarah, Bob's Aunt

Dorothy Fritchard

Mrs. Woodsworth, Dean of Clark

Hall ..... Winnie Bromley

College Students:

Doris ..... Dorothy Dewar

Genevieve ..... Evelyn Smith

Daisy ..... Ruth Holbrook

Dick ..... Victor Wilson

Duncan ..... Douglas Elliott

Jack ..... Charles Eaton

Cyril Waite ..... Rano Jarrett

Between the different acts other short numbers were given. Between Acts I and II Miss Dallas rendered a piano solo; between Acts II and III an orchestral selection was given, conducted by Mr. Don Macpherson; between Acts III and IV an alphabet skit was staged under the direction of Miss Gimby. The singing of "Hail Our College" brought the programme to a close.

BOARD REPORT.

da. There is also a growing interest in further education beyond the B.A. degree. This has been particularly true during the past few years. Of the 1926 class, numbering 22, all except one member, have continued their education, 13 in Pedagogy, one in Medicine, and 7 in University graduate work. All who specialized in Pedagogy have been successful and are now widely distributed in the schools of Western Canada. The medical student is continuing his course with a view to work in the medical missionary field. Of the 7 who proceeded with university graduate work, three have already received the M. A. degree and three others are now at work toward the Ph.D. degree direct.

At the present time there are Ministerial students in each of the four years of the Arts departments. These men are taking the regular Arts course with the view of completing their Theological training after Arts graduation. In this way they will have a broad Arts foundation of their Theological work.

The student body this year is quite up to the Brandon College Standard. They are well organized as a Student Association and show a wholesome spirit in all phases of college life.

A keen interest is taken in the Sunday study groups, the S.C.M and S.V.M. meetings, and in the daily chapel and vesper services.

As far as facility will permit the students enter whole-heartedly into athletics and debating, as well as in literary and social activities.

In conclusion let me say that, within the Institution, those who have been entrusted with the work of the school are deeply impressed with the value of the program, the ideals and the mission of Brandon College. They are proud of her past history, they have faith in her present program, and they look forward with hope to the day when, by means of more adequate equipment, she may be more effective in influencing the young lives of Western Canada in the service of God. We trust that the people of Western Canada may increasingly appreciate the work Brandon College is doing, and that in larger numbers they may hear the challenge in her mission and rally to her support.

NEWS OF OUR ALUMNI.

At this first opportunity 'The Quill' wishes to express to all the sons and daughters of Brandon the very best of everything for the year 1928.

During the Christmas vacation several Brandon students found their way back to the old home, and though there was nothing done in an official way greetings and reunions were hearty. Among those who gathered here were Misses J. Turnbull, R. Clement, G. Godley, F. and E. Irish and Messrs. R. Wellwood, T. Segsworth and S. McDowell.

'05.—Among the members of the Baptist Union of Western Canada who visited the College recently we were glad to welcome W. P. Freeman, Supt. of Young People's work in British Columbia and Alberta.

'26.—Anita Sallans was forced to give up teaching at Christmas and has since then been in Brandon for medical treatment. She is recovering and has returned to her home in Elgin.

'26.—T. Segsworth has joined the High School Staff at Indian Head, Sask.

'27—Leta Fry, Ruth Clement, Gertrude Godley and Edith Irish visited us before their return to their studies and were the very acceptable speakers at the regular Chapel service.

'26.—Art Macpherson commenced graduate work in Geology at University of Chicago at the first of the year.

'27.—Lloyd Crawford has accepted a position with a Business College in Weyburn, Sask.

Excerpt from Ruth Clement's letter January 28, 1928.

35 St. George St., Toronto.

"Thursday night we went to Host House, to the S. C. M. Dinner. It was the Annual Toronto University Dinner and all Faculties were represented. Margaret Kilgour, Elinor Barnstead and I went from the House. It was very interesting. I met Gertrude Rutherford, Mary Powell, Ernest Clarke, Capt. Bruce, etc., all of whom are S. C. M. Leaders who have been to Brandon. It was lovely to see them all again. Professor Mickham, of Queen's was the principal speaker, also Sir Robert Falconer spoke. After dinner we had a delightful musicale up in the Music Room."—Ruth Clement.

S. C. M. NOTES.

The joint meetings of the S. C. M. are now to be held at every third student chapel service instead of in the evenings as previously. This in the nature of an experiment with the hope that outside students will be better able to participate at this hour. It is hoped that the change will enable the entire student body to take a keener interest in this phase of our student life.

S. V. M. CONVENTION.

To try further to summarize such a gathering as met in the great Masonic Temple, in Detroit, would be as futile as to try to find one's way around the great and magnificent building. Our visions were broadened, our convictions were strengthened, and our tasks were made evident to us. The spirit of the new world into which we have entered, with its absolute rejection of the white superiority complex, held sway. Christ stood at the centre of the thought of the whole convention, The Cross is Jesus in His inmost being gathered up into a single act so it was that there was a large wooden cross at the back of the platform of that immense auditorium, dominating the whole scene. Mutual understanding and tolerance in Christ Jesus were the watchwords, coupled with a sincere search for truth and a determination to establish Christ's Kingdom of Love.
