A Message From the Lady Stick

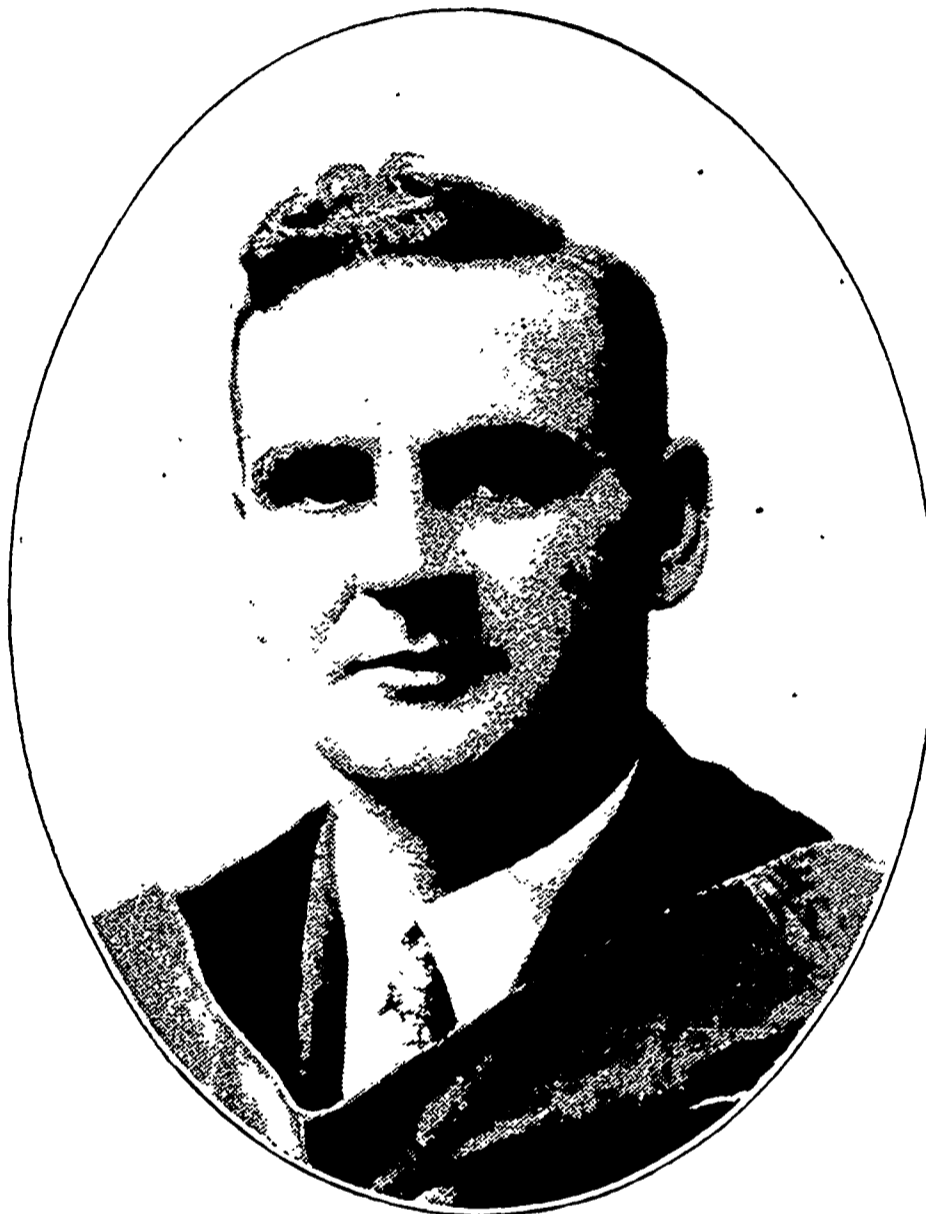

To give expression to a few sincere words of welcome to the new students, and old, entering the halls of Brandon College, in any way but by the use of the most hackneyed phrases seems impossible. For this occasion I would wish I were the "Lady of Christ", that I might convey to you all, in the most expressive terms, how very sincerely we welcome you.

Those who are returning to their dear old Alma Mater, have learned to love her greatly and the noble struggle she has made, particularly this last spring and summer to continue as an educational institute of no mean credit, has made us realize how rapidly and thoroughly that intangible influence "the Brandon Spirit" has permeated our whole life. To the old students we say "greetings", and best wishes for a most enjoyable and successful year.

But to those who are entering Brandon College for the first time, especially the girls, we extend a very warm and hearty welcome. We trust you will enjoy every minute you spend in College. It is a great and glorious experience, upon which you are entering. It will be a happy period of friendship-making, of developing socially, mentally, physically, and with the splendid Christian influences surrounding you, spiritually. Oh, there will be plenty of study, with scholarships hanging temptingly within your reach, but there will also be time for play, fellowship and social recreation. Greatly as our studies aid us, tolerance, courtesy and kindness, true marks of culture are developed by contact with others.

Each year as we face the term without the valuable assistance of the previous graduating class, we experience a real sense of loss, and our hearts sink within us, but each and every freshman and freshette can help make the college year a success as the old students step forward to fill in the gaps left by the graduating group.

DR. J. R. C. EVANS
President.

President Evans' Welcome.

With a peculiar interest we greet the approach of another school year and with eager anticipation we look forward to the varied experiences that it may hold for each one of us.

It is a source of joy to meet old friends within the student body and faculty and a pleasure to make new acquaintances which, we trust, will enlarge and enrich our circle of friendship as the days go by.

On behalf of Brandon College I am happy indeed to extend to you all a very hearty welcome with a sincere wish that the College year upon which we have now entered may be filled with purposeful endeavor marked with worthy progress and crowned with true success.

That you have come to College this year in the face of the financial depression through which the country is passing is in itself a tribute to your good judgment and serious purpose, for the very fact that the material progress of our country has been temporarily checked constitutes a challenge for the development of the life and character, particularly of our young people today.

Toward this end Brandon College warmly welcomes you to her halls. She is interested in you, not merely from the standpoint of your presence alone, but particularly because of the possibility of your development. Her traditions are sound, her ideals are high and her objectives are worthy of your very best efforts.

In accepting the privilege of affiliation with her there comes to all of us the challenge of cooperation. I sincerely trust that increasingly this challenge may meet with our favorable response so that the future of each one of us may be greatly enriched by the associations and experiences that will be ours to enjoy together this College year.

A Word of Welcome from the Senior Stick

While thinking of words of welcome with which to greet you, a story, told by one of my former teachers (teachers will persist in telling stories--both new and old), came to mind.

The Chinese, so the story goes, wished to give the Prince of Wales a royal welcome upon the occasion of his first visit to their country. They had some little difficulty in translating their feelings into English, but finally they succeeded. When the Prince arrived he was met by a huge banner, stretched across the principal street of the city, on which were the words, 'God Help the Prince of Wales'. The sentiment was good but rather poorly expressed.

So it must be with all welcomes, words are inadequate to express the feelings we wish to convey. So I simply say: A Hearty Welcome to you all! Whether you come to Brandon College for the first time, or whether you are returning to her well loved halls—Welcome. To the members of the Faculty, among whom there are also new faces, I wish, on behalf of the student body, to extend a warm welcome.

Any attempt to enumerate the qualities and influences of our Alma Mater which make it such an admirable educational institution is, I believe, quite unnecessary. Unnecessary, because, Brandon College (allow me to use this popular saying) "needs no eulogy, she speaks for herself." When we think of the tremendous enthusiasm for Alma Mater which fires every student who has spent even a short time under her influence, when we think of the sacrifices made by her teachers and by those who contribute to her financial support to enable her to continue to make her contribution to the cause of higher education, then do we realize that such devotion and such sacrifices speak more loudly of the values of our Alma Mater than words,

The Sickle

WELCOME FRIENDS, TO BRANDON COLLEGE.

Though this may seem an overworked phrase at the present time we feel that we, the Publications Staff, must join in with the various other individuals and organizations and wish you every success here at College.

It was gratifying indeed to learn that Brandon College would continue to operate and it is also gratifying to see so many new faces in the College halls. In spite of the lateness of definite announcements concerning the college, coupled with severe financial conditions many have found it possible to choose Brandon as their Alma Mater this year. For this we are glad for a large student body is almost essential. We know the new students will not be disappointed in the choice of their College for the worthiness of our institution has been proved time after time.

We suggest that you begin at once to make the best of your sojourn here. Your primary object is of course to obtain an education and in this we wish you success. Apart from scholastic endeavor however, we have various student organizations which will deserve your consideration. We have the Athletic Association, the Literary Society, the Debating Club, the English Club, and many, many more. We ask you this year in particular when our student body has been rilled by the depression, to join in and make B. C. a bigger, happy family.

It was with the deepest regret that we learned, during the vacation, of the death of Harry Carmichael, a member of Class '33 last year and Religious Editor of The Quill.

On behalf of the Publication's Staff we extend the deepest sympathy to the bereaved family.

The campaign which enabled the College to continue is published elsewhere in this issue. The generosity shown by the citizens of Brandon during times of depression is indeed a tribute to the worthiness of our Alma Mater. These citizens have shown, in terms of dollars and cents, that they appreciate the work the College is doing.

The students now come more under the watchful eye of the Brandon people. These citizens are watching us—not with a critical eye—but with an interested eye. It is up to us as students to make them feel that their money is well invested, make them glad to contribute again if the occasion should arise, and last but not least, convince them one and all that the College is worthy of civic support.

OBITUARY.

DONALD HENRY CARMICHAEL

On June 9th, 1931, death claimed, after a lingering illness, Harry Carmichael, of Kindersley, Sask.

Harry was born at Delisle, Sask., Nov. 5th, 1907, and spent the greater part of his life in Kindersley. In the fall of 1930 he entered second year Arts at Brandon, taking an active interest in his work and in student activity.

He was a staunch member of the Ministerial Association and during his course he filled various pulpits from Sunday to Sunday. In his chosen life work he showed considerable promise, and though with us at Brandon for a period of only six months, he made many friends and commanded the respect and appreciation of all. In the early spring he was forced to relinquish his work and became gradually more ill until the end.

He was a student of good intellect, a friend, and a man to be admired. That he should be taken while on the threshold of his career, we are not able to understand. We are only able to mourn his passing and express our appreciation of his life and work while he was with us. To his sorrowing family the sympathy of the entire Student Body is extended.

THE CAMPAIGN.

The definite announcement that Brandon College would continue to operate was received with the greatest enthusiasm by her students and friends throughout the country.

When the College By-law was defeated many thought that the end had come, but apparently such was far from the actual case. A mass meeting was held in the City Hall and citizens voiced their disapproval of the institution closing. It was decided that a campaign should be lodged in the city to raise sufficient money, which, when added to other contributions, would enable Brandon College to function for another year. To achieve this end 100 persons were named to act as a committee to take charge of the campaign. This move was essentially a citizens' undertaking and the widespread cooperation gave rise to satisfactory results. Hundreds of subscriptions of all sizes were received at the committee rooms. No donation was too small—none too large.

Assisting the citizens committee were the College students who reside in Brandon. These students, under the able leadership of Mr. Skeoch, the Senior Stick, did a great deal of clerical work and assisted in soliciting funds. They also had charge of a booth at the Summer Fair, where they distributed literature concerning the College and answered questions of interested persons. Without the help of these students it would have been impossible to carry on such a thorough campaign and their efforts are deeply appreciated by the College Board as well as by friends and out of town students of Brandon College.

The result of the campaign has been very gratifying to those in charge. Approximately $22,000 has been raised in the City of Brandon. Though more must be raised from various sources, the College Board have sufficient assurance to warrant the continuance of the institution. Out of town contributors showed their faith in the College and to the City's total added an almost equal sum.

This fine demonstration on the part of the City and out of town donors allows us to make the statement that College is opening with assurance of completing the coming year.

CLARK HALL ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION PLANS BIGGER AND BETTER YEAR IN 1931-32.

We are once again at the beginning of a new term, full of dreams, ambitions and enthusiasm. Clark Hall athletics provide a good field where you can make many of those dreams come true. Last year some of our outstanding girl athletes graduated, leaving vacancies in ranks which though they may be hard to fill, can and will be filled by some of you. Who they will be remains to be seen. That is up to you.

And Freshettes! we need you so much that we want you to forget all about the strangeness of your surroundings or any shyness about entering activities, and lend us your cooperation at once. For Field Day is only a few days off and we are looking forward to meeting a lot of new athletes in the various events, and a lot of new friends out to train on the campus behind the college. It's a wonderful opportunity to get acquainted, and even if you've never won a race or an athletic event in your life, you will enjoy the fun of training, and of entering events, in which you may have a real chance to reveal unexpected abilities. There is a list of girls' events elsewhere on this page, so turn to it at once and you will be sure to find something there to interest you.

There will be a tennis tournament in full swing within a few days, so get your racquet out (or if you do not own one, borrow your room mate's) and prepare to fight for the championship.

Then there is Basketball. Brandon College girls have a reputation to uphold, so we must all show real enthusiasm and willingness to cooperate with our coach in order to keep that reputation.

If you don't star at basketball or tennis, there will be ample opportunity for you to make a place on the girls' hockey team, for winter will be here before we know it. We want to see every girl in at least one line of sport, so choose your field, and then plan to become efficient at it.

HAVE ATHLETICS A PLACE IN OUR COLLEGE LIFE?

Once again it is the beginning of a new school year, once again sounds the familiar clang of class bells, and once again exists the grim determination of the student to "make good" in his studies. These factors point to a successful year, as usual, in educational pursuits but do the ambitions, enthusiasm and energy of the student body include the subject of sports? Have athletics a place in our college life? These questions can only be answered emphatically in the affirmative. To attain scholastic achievement, a student must have health, exercise and energy, among other things. Athletics offer all these and more! Sport is recreation and it alone can teach in a noble way the lesson of life—to be a good loser as well as a generous winner. And with competition in athletics at its strongest, we can learn both.

With the graduation last spring of Class '31, many of our athletes, both men and women, have set out on their ways in life. Their places in the athletic fields of Brandon College must be filled! And it remains to former non-participants of our college, and especially to our freshies and freshettes to fill them. In that way, with an athletic spirit prevailing in our time-honored halls and dormitories, athletics will rise to new heights in our college life and Brandon College will be capably represented as always before.

Your fields of endeavor, in sports, are many, fellow students. Heading the long list in chronological order is our 24th Annual Field Day, for further individual honors the students may turn to tennis; with the advent of autumn, inter-form soccer comes to the fore and with the coming of majestic winter, the students may find pleasure galore in skating, hockey, basketball and tobogganing. Spring brings baseball, softball and another period of tennis. So, fellow students, choose your lines and aim at a definite standard of efficiency. Make your objective this year to become a member of a championship Brandon College representative team, and to be the proud possessor of a College "B", the symbol of championship in Athletics.

But greater still lend every method of support to the athletics of your College and build up an Esprit de Corps never before attained in Brandon College. By so doing, the possibilities of making this our greatest year in Athletics will become a reality. But such success is the result of unselfish cooperation and earnest endeavor only. And now it remains to be seen how you will answer the question, "Have Athletics a place in our College Life?"

BRANDON COLLEGE 24th ANNUAL FIELD DAY.

The B. C. A. A. extends a sincere and hearty welcome to the "Frosh" and invites every freshman to participate in feature Athletic event of the season, our 24th Annual Field Day. This event will be held on October 10th at the Exhibition grounds, weather permitting. There are a number of Cup and Medals put up for competition, (both individual and inter-form), and as competition will be stiff (since many events are open to the city), the Association urges everyone to get out and train faithfully to keep the honors in the College.

With poor weather last year, the events were held in the Arena Rink, and although we were cramped for space, several records were broken. This year, with any break whatever from the weather man, there is every indication that more records will "go by the boards".

Inter-form competition, too, promises to be as keen as ever.

The following is a list of events, standards and records, subject to correction.

LADY STICK'S MESSAGE.

Your new ideas and suggestions, and your keen enthusiasm will be appreciated. There are many channels in to which your talents may be directed. We hope you will enter the different places of activity, and trust you will soon feel you are one of a big family.

Every old student will do all in his or her power to make you feel at home, a spirit of true friendliness pervades the atmosphere. Even the untouchable beings, the Professors, who dwell in that translucent air, are found to be most interested in each humble searcher after wisdom.

You are about to become a member of that universal body of students, locally, yet none the less securely bound together. The alumni have imbibed freely at the fountain of learning, and attest to its delight and satisfaction.

To those who worked, sacrificed and gave so generously to keep our Alma Mater open to us, we gratefully offer our thanks. We can assure you it has been greatly appreciated.

In closing, once again a hearty welcome to you one and all, and best wishes for a happy, profitable sojourn in Brandon.

SENIOR STICK'S MESSAGE.

no matter how carefully chosen could possibly do

To say that your purpose in coming here is to obtain an education, would be a mere truism. Education, according to Dr. Bagley, "is the process by means of which the individual acquires experiences that will function in rendering more efficient his future actions." Some of these experiences will be gained through your study of the various subjects of your course, others, of almost equal importance (with apologies to the professors) will be acquired through your participation in the various other fields of college activity. I need not say that we welcome you to all these varied fields of endeavor and wish all success for your efforts.

I wish to say just a few words of gratitude to those who so generously contributed to the fund, which has enabled Brandon College to continue its work this year as usual. The students, I am sure, deeply appreciate and thank all those who aided Alma Mater at this time of stress.

In conclusion, I again say: "Welcome to Brandon College and may a happy and successful sojourn be yours!"

CLASS '31.

After spending the summer doing various things in various places, the members of last year's grad class have spread to many different points in the Dominion to take up winter work. Most of them are doing further study in other universities and normal schools, while some have already started to work. From east to west, almost every large city can claim a few members of '31. In Toronto there will be Ruth Wright, who is attending Ontario College of Education, and Ernie Shaw and Buster Holstein, who are doing post graduate work in Geology at Toronto University. George Heywood is at Queen's, in Kingston, taking Commerce. Mary Shepley, Margorie Pitton, Ida Zink, Frances Cater and Stan McGill represent Arts '31 in the Graduate's class at Winnipeg Normal School, while Ralph Easter is preaching at Beulah Baptist Church, Winnipeg. Marg. McKinnon has been attending the Success Business College in Weyburn since last July. Gordon Tolton is preaching in the Baptist Church at Estevan, and is doing some extra-mural work in Sociology from Brandon College. Don Carlson is still preaching at Stockholm, Sask., and is doing extra-mural work on his Master's degree. Harold Cairns is at his home at Oak Lake, and Horace Wilson may be found at Grandview, University of Saskatchewan has proven a popular choice, and there may be found at the College of Education, Margaret Draper, Athea Burby, Ross Vasey and Willa Robertson. Stan Westaway is also working in Saskatoon. Agnes Derby has reversed the general order of things and is attending Commercial High School in Regina. Lois Gainer is doing stenographic work in Edmonton and very successfully, from all reports. Finally at the far west of the Dominion Nesbie Maltman and Howard Dunfield are attending faculty of Education at University of British Columbia, and Edgar Black is there too, taking post-graduate work in science.

THE DEBATING CLUB.

The Debating Club in Brandon College is to be distinguished from the Debating Society. Whereas the latter is an all-student organization the Club is a smaller group which works intensively at the art of debating. Its membership is limited to sixteen, new members being elected by the club from those who give their applications to the secretary. In the past the club has met once a week, holding debates, parliaments, trials and various forms of meetings as arranged by the program committee. A high standard of work is done, the principal concern being the developing of debating ability.

COLLEGE HIKE.

One of the most-looked for events of the first week in Brandon College, and one of the longest talked about, is to take place on Saturday afternoon, October 3rd. This is the annual all college hike, to which all students registered in all departments are most cordially invited. This is a good place to renew acquaintances made at the Freshie Reception, so a record attendance is expected. Hiking togs will be the order of the day, and weiners and buns and coffee will top the menu. Here's a good chance to start right in to develop that good old Brandon College Spirit.

THE FRENCH CLUB.

The "Cercle Francais" or as it is more popularly known, the French Club, though but a new organization, has already won a recognized place among student activities. Those students specializing in French, and those who are interested in French as a foreign conversational language, find these meetings an interesting and novel, as well as helpful, experience, as they are conducted entirely in French.

The Club meets once a month under the supervision of the French professor, each meeting consisting of a program of readings, musical numbers and short talks of interest to students taking French.

The membership is open to all students registered in any French course both in Academy and Arts. A hearty and sincere invitation is extended to all new students to join this Society.

FRESHIE RECEPTION

Friday night the Lady Stick will entertain in the Reception Room in honor of the Freshies. This will be the first formal opportunity for Freshmen to meet senior students, and they are heartily invited to be present. There will be a short reception line, at which all freshies must be presented, and following which there will be a short, snappy and interesting program. Refreshments will be served after the program. This function tho' formal in some ways, is really not as bad as it sounds, and all freshies will find themselves very much at home among a group of not-so-dignified Juniors, and not-so-sophisticated Seniors as they may be fearing. We want you all out to have a real good time, and all old students will be doing their best to make this party a happily remembered one for all new students. So don't fail to be there—or your names will be "on the list"!

Cheerio, old top, we shall be seeing you there!
