College Social Season Opens.

Brandon College has always been noted for the friendly spirit of her students, and their wholesome enthusiasm for the varied activities which go to make up a normal life. In nothing is this more evident than in their attitude toward the social functions sponsored by the Student Association. Everybody is welcome, everybody comes, and everybody has a good time.

Students activities made a splendid start last week with the "Freshie" reception on Friday, September 30th. The Freshman, each accompanied by a senior sponsor, and announced by Russel Wright, were received by the Senior Stick, Lorne Umphrey; the Lady Stick, Ruth Thornton; by Dr. Evans and Mrs. Evans; and by Professor Wright and Mrs. Wright. They were then conducted to the dining room, where, after having met others of their own group, and the Seniors, they filled out their Prom. cards and were led merrily away to the Chapel, for the first program of the year. An address of welcome, given by Bob Howland '34, was replied to by K. Heywood. Edith Laycock gave two entertaining readings and Bob Howland performed ably on his "depression instrument", the hand saw. After the conclusion of the program, a return was made to the dining room where everyone enjoyed a delicious lunch. Then, the "Freshies" heard "Hail Our College" as their own song, for the first time, and wriggled uncomfortably while the Seniors shouted "Hippi Skippi". But they will soon learn it! The reception was under the direction of the Lady Stick.

On Saturday one of the most popular events of the year took place—the All College hike. The students met in Clark Hall at two o'clock, and after some slight delay, a start was made. A dusty, but enjoyable tramp to the Iron Bridge was followed by Softball, in which all (except those already incapacitated) took part. Al-

President of Brandon College.

MESSAGE FROM PRESIDENT EVANS.

I am glad to take advantage of the opportunity afforded through the pages of the Quill to extend a sincere welcome to all who have come to Brandon this year and who now constitute the Student Body of Brandon College for 1932-33.

Many of you have been here before and have returned to resume your work. To you little need be said regarding the warmth of welcome that awaits you for you already know what the "Brandon Spirit" means. Suffice it to say that we are happy indeed to see you back with us again and that we trust the year upon which you are entering may be marked with continued progress and crowned with further success. Your Alma Mater will mean more to you this year than ever before and we hope that you, in turn, may increasingly mean more to her.

To those of you who are here for the first time let me say that the doors of Brandon College ever swing wide to greet all who are genuinely interested in real educational development. We welcome you, therefore, to all the phases of college life, feeling sure that, as you learn to appreciate the various factors that contribute toward the education you now seek, your estimation of Brandon College as your Alma Mater will steadily grow.

We trust that you may never have cause to regret the choice you have made in coming to Brandon and at the same time we hope, with equal sincerity, that Brandon College may never have occasion to wish that you had not come.

Brandon College boasts of high ideals in life and conduct. Her standards of efficiency are second to none. She seeks to create within the life of every student that comes to her halls a thirst for knowledge, which is so important in all educational development, and a desire for truth, which is so essential in the appreciation of life.

We welcome you, then, to all the opportunities that Brandon College now offers you to build lives happy in their environment, efficient in capacity, consistent with the highest principles of manhood and womanhood and in harmony with the true ideals of Christian character.

J. R. C. EVANS.

BRIGHT FINANCIAL PROSPECTS REPORTED BY BRANDON COLLEGE.

We are glad to report that the financial outlook of Brandon College is distinctly encouraging. Support for the remainder of this year is assured. The Brandon local committee has written guaranteeing the promised $7000. Most of this is already in the trustee's hands.

Dr. Evans brings good reports from the east. A number of committees are at work there, and they are confident that the budget will be made. Western supporters remain loyal, and committees are at work in each of the Western Provinces. The expected increase in registrations has been realized, thanks to the student committee. Although the future is not clearly revealed, the upturn in business conditions and the increased interest of the general public, make it much more possible than it was, to secure the funds, not only to run the College, but to put it on a permanent basis. Dr. Evans will spend much time this winter in forwarding the splendid work he is doing. Congratulations all around.

HEAVY REGISTRATION ASSURES SUCCESSFUL YEAR.

Those who have frequented the halls of Brandon College during this last week, have been impressed by the overflowing classrooms, the spirit of animation which prevails. The splendid response to the new student drive of the faculty members and the students committee under Alys Hunter, made during the summer, is the most hopeful sign on the College horizon. Here are some of the highlights from the Registrars Office:

Close on 30% increase over last year's registration.

More than twice as many out of town students.

Largest regular Arts registration in the history of the College.

Many new towns and districts represented.

Splendid qualifications of the new students. There are a number of Governor-General medalists and one Isbister Scholarship holder.

It is interesting to note, that since 1907, except for one or two unusual years, the College has consistently increased its registrations, year by year, until the present peak of 178 in Arts alone has been reached.

Total registration at time of going to press is 212.

THE READING ROOM QUESTION.

With the opening of another school year comes the re-opening of a problem which has proved troublesome in the past—the "outside" reading room question. Already some of the outside men students are enquiring about it and requesting it. These students base their requests on several arguments, viz: that the "inside" students have a reading room from which "outside" students are excluded; that the students have had one in past years; that those who do not partake of the skating rink, tennis court, etc., be given something besides The Quill twice a month for their ten dollars Students' Association fee; and that the students should have some place to congregate where discussion may be carried on and where one may spend a few extra minutes in "light" reading.

Some of these arguments contain much truth but others are fallacious. It is true that the men students living in the College have had a reading room of their own for the past few years but it must be remembered that Brandon College is the home of these students for over seven months of the year and since they have paid for the upkeep of their reading room out of their own pockets—outside of Student Association fees—they are entitled to exclude outsiders, whose attitude and conduct may not always be the best.

It is true, also, that the male student body as a whole has had a reading room in previous years. But lack of space and in a few cases inexcusable conduct brought the end of that.

But that a student demands something else for his Student Association fees because he does not make use of existing facilities provided by the association, is almost a joke. These facilities are provided by the Association for the students and if the students do not make use of them, no one but themselves are to blame.

The last argument, however, is both a strong and sensible one, providing the Students' Association can find the space and funds. It is a fact that the library is no place for relaxation; "the library is increasingly the workshop of the students." And there are many times when it may be not only unprofitable but confusing to dig into deep library research work for the brief period of a few moments. Better to relax and give whole hearted attention in the next lecture, for "work when you work and play when you play." Undesirable conduct, Chapel skipping, etc., might be met but such problems could be overcome by good management.

Therefore, it is up to the "outside" students who want a reading room to face the facts squarely and to accept the result as it comes. Neither the College nor the Students' Association is prejudiced against such an undertaking and if it will be possible, financially and otherwise, the reading room may again become a reality.

COLLEGE SPIRIT

To the new student especially, there is a strong feeling of appreciation for his Alma Mater. This feeling we term "College Spirit". As the College years roll by the College Spirit may increase or diminish, depending much on the type of the individual himself. The greatest way to show one's College Spirit is in the willingness to help, and although there is a fine spirit among our student body—for which we can justly be proud—it takes whole-hearted support on the part of all students to bring out this spirit.

Therefore, on being asked to participate in student activities, we should feel it is no duty to perform but a privilege. In that way, with responsibility equally and willingly shared, nothing is too great to be accomplished.

What is, and what will continue to be, YOUR College Spirit?

MESSAGE FROM THE LADY STICK.

Greetings to all who have entered Brandon College this fall. To both old and new students we extend a hearty welcome but particularly to the students who are entering our College for the first time. We hope as you pass through the portals, you will immediately feel the atmosphere of friendliness which prevails throughout these halls.

This year, especially, it gives us an even greater thrill to see so many new students, in view of the fact of the difficult times we are passing through. May we truly realize the opportunity afforded us in being able to partake of the many spheres of activity in our College.

To the new girls, in particular, do we extend our sincere welcome and friendship. We know, that in time you too, like we students who have been here a year or two, will grow to love our Alma Mater very dearly. To us all she means beauty, friendship and love. These three factors figure a great deal in our College life. Therefore girls, let us make the most of our opportunities.

It is up to each and everyone of us to make this year, our year, a real success. Let us all join hands in one big effort to work hard and to enjoy the privileges which are ours. Friendship means everything in this effort, so let us overcome our bashfulness and enter the different fields of interest to each one of us, in order to make every activity bigger and better.

Students of Brandon College, may we have the courage to accept our responsibilities, for through them we can make our greatest contributions.
RUTH THORNTON.

FROM THE SENIOR STICK.

With the opening of each College year many changes are always noted. New faces appear and familiar ones are missed. The familiar faces of those who were in command a year ago have gone forth on the broad road of service and their places have been filled by individuals who are prepared to carry on in the same spirit but with the added experience gained from their predecessors.

We of Brandon College are proud of the traditions that we have inherited and of the spirit that has grown up among us. Our student government has built up a spirit of self reliance, self control and self respect that is an inheritance of first importance. Loyalty to Alma Mater and to each other is paramount in each individual.

The door of opportunity is open, particularly to the new students. It is their privilege and duty to maintain and pass on unblemished the inheritance which has been handed to them.

I would ask that the students accept the opportunity not only of gaining knowledge as a basis of life work but also the opportunity of learning how to live. Apart from lectures there are activities which demand our attention; to fail to partake would not be in keeping with the Brandon College spirit.

I feel quite confident that the student body now enrolled will so conduct its affairs that the standards of the past will not only be maintained but elevated even higher.

H. L. UMPHREY.

FOR "FRESHIES" ONLY.

Gather round children while I tell you a tale of—no not Santa Claus, but something just as ancient—something called tradition. You probably haven't realized what a nasty, humbugging, thing tradition is, but you soon will; don't be discouraged. Tradition is responsible for rolling you out of bed at an unearthly hour in the morning, for shaving you or for powdering your nose as the case may be; it gives you porridge for breakfast and fish on Fridays; even decides what subjects you will take on your courses; but of course you couldn't be expected to know that, could you? Don't despair of tradition however, for its going to do something for you very soon, too soon as a matter of fact, it's going to initiate you. There, the secret's out. Oh yes, I know its rather a sticky, humiliating business, but its all for your own good. You don't agree? Of course not, didn't expect you to, but we sophs, and profs, and other dignitaries of note, know much better than you could be expected to. You didn't know that "Freshitis" is a serious disease, demanding drastic treatment, did you? Well it is. We have to get rid of pains like the small-town-big-noise, the Collegiate-prodigee, the two-room-school-principal, the pride-of-the-family, and the other odds and ends that creep into a Freshie class. The method employed is simple but painful. We reduce all to the L.C.M. by a process known technically as "reducum absurdum" in the hope that in your common foolishness you may find uncommon fellowship. Don't forget the more you smile and take it on the chin the better we like you. That's all for now children, toddle off to classes.

THE FACULTY ON VACATION

The vacation period found our Faculty scattered far afield in search of rest, inspiration and renewed zest for the winter months with their many demands and strenuous activities.

Our President, after a prolonged stay in the East busily engaged in an intensive campaign in our aid motored with Mrs. Evans for a much needed vacation to the Wright-Evans Ranch at Robson, B. C. Mr. and Mrs. Wright had preceded Dr. and Mrs. Evans some weeks earlier. Their entire vacation was spent enjoying the beauties of their mountain home and entertaining many friends from the prairies, among them Mr. Perdue who visited many of the western cities before he returned to his duties.

Miss Turnbull was another member of our faculty to visit the West. She had a very delightful trip to Edmonton, returning by way of Lake Louise.

Those visiting the western Ontario lake district were: Mr. and Mrs. Anderson, at Mallard Lake; Mrs. Whitmore, at Ottermere Lake; Miss Fielder, Mr. and Mrs. Richards, Rev. and Mrs. Ross Eaton, and Mr. and Mrs. Hurd, at Cache Lake. Mr. and Mrs. Hurd spent the first part of their vacation in Ottawa where Mr. Hurd was an advisor to a committee of the Imperial Conference.

Mr. and Mrs. Foster made an extended motor trip through Eastern Canada, travelling as far as the Atlantic Coast, touching many places of historic interest. Miss Duff also motored East, holidaying in Ottawa.

After several weeks in Toronto doing research work with Dr. Banting, Mr. Lucas went as far south as Mexico, returning by the Panama Canal up the Pacific Coast to Vancouver.

Miss Dallas spent an interesting and profitable summer in Chicago studying at the Boguslawski studios. Miss Cummings holidayed in Edmonton, also spending some time in Calgary and Jasper.

Miss Gruenke, Miss Morgan, Miss Henderson, Miss Riesberry, Miss Duncan, Mr. Robertson, Mr. Birkinshaw, Mr. and Mrs. Westcott and Mr. Donovan spent their vacations at their respective homes, taking short trips to various summer resorts.

THE ENGLISH CLUB.

The English Club of Brandon College, a select group of twelve enthusiastic students, is being re-organized under the capable leadership of Grace Armstrong. This year the Club's choice of study, directed by the Hon. President, Mrs. Whitmore, has been "Contemporary American Verse". Regular meetings are held the second Saturday of every month, with special meetings as arranged by the Executive.

There are six vacancies at present in the membership of the Club. Applications for membership will be received by the acting secretary, L. Van Dine or the President, and are accepted at the discretion of the executive.

THE TENNIS TOURNAMENT.

Oct. 7th has been set for the opening of the college tennis tournament. It is expected that Dr. Evans will toss the first ball, symbolic of the formal opening. The enthusiasm shown this year already ensures the success of this undertaking.

The tournament will consist of:—men's singles, women's singles, men's doubles, women's doubles, mixed doubles.

The men's, women's and mixed doubles will be handicap events. All balls must be supplied by players. Courts will be allotted by the athletic executive.

INTRODUCING MISS GRUENKE.

Miss Emma Gruenke, who joins the College Faculty this year as Instructor of German, claims Emerson, Man., as her home.

She is a Brandon graduate of the year '27 and has a teaching experience that has further developed her natural ability. Her excellent work as an undergraduate and the success of her career since graduation led her Alma Mater to call her to fill the German instructorship this year.

We congratulate Miss Gruenke on having thus received the stamp of approval of Alma Mater and on having this opportunity to prove her loyalty and interest in efficient service. We, the student body of 1932-33, welcome Miss Gruenke most heartily back to college halls and express the hope that she may enjoy her work and her stay in our midst.

SOMETHING NEW.

The editorial staff is anxious that the "Quill" become a more vital factor in our College life. It desires of course, that the "Quill" shall be a mirror to reflect all College activities, but it can, and should be something more than that. It can be a medium for the development of the latent literary talent, which we know to be hidden in our student body. In order to stimulate this phase of our work, we have decided to confer 'Honorable Mention' upon the contributor sending in the most interesting and original piece of work in each issue. The award will be based upon the issue previous to the one in which it is announced, and will occupy a position of honour on the front page. See if you can make your name top the list. You never know until you try.

25th ANNUAL TRACK MEET
OCTOBER 15th.

The major event in College sporting circles is, of course, Field Day. This is the day when the College track and field stars strut their stuff before an admiring crowd of friends, wives, sweethearts, or, what have you. This year will see the 25th Annual Field Day and Dame Rumor has it that this will be a Field Day than which there has been none whicher.

Last year, despite adverse weather conditions, the Meet was very successful. Competition was keen and some records were broken. Geo. Thorman set a new record for the "440", while Alec. Cameron established a new mark for the High Hurdles. In the Ladies events, Peggy McDonald, in the 75 yards dash and standing Broad Jump, set up new marks for this year's girls to shoot at. Art Brown won the Grand Aggregate Cup, the Freshman's Medal to George Thorman. Among the ladies, Peg. McDonald lifted both the Girl's Aggregate and Freshette Medals. Mary Coutts won the Runner-up Medal and for the first time in several years Senior Arts won the Inter-form competition.

This year the feature to note is that the Meet will be closed. There will not be, as in other years, competition from the Collegiate, the Normal, and Technical. Much useful and interesting competition will be lost, but it is generally conceded that the loss will be more than offset by the greater participation on the part of College students. The attempt to increase the number of those College students actively intrested in the Meet is to be commended, and besides, an Interscholastic Meet will probably be held later.

Picking the winners in advance is a foolish pastime. Art Brown will be out to make it three in a row but will receive stern competition. After watching some of the stars of lesser magnitude it appears that, in the past much light has been hidden under the well known bushel. It must also be remembered that among the Freshmen may be a "dark horse" who may upset the old dope-pot all over the Campus.

Another feature of note is the challenge of the B. C. A. A. to the Faculty to a Tug-of-war. This should be interesting.

The Meet will be held in the Exhibition grounds Saturday October 15th. If the Weather Man continues to put out a low quality product all day Friday the 14th, and the prophets fear the same for the morrow, the Meet will be set back one week. Should the weather again be unfavorable it will be held in the Arena. Further announcements will be made from time to time in Chapel. Students are advised to watch the Athletic Bulletin Board.

LOOKING BACKWARD

In the entire history of athletics in Brandon College, last year's sport program will be remembered as the most successful to date. Every line of sport was strongly represented and contested and success was tasted to a large degree.

The tennis tournament was speedily run off; field day was a huge record breaker; the College soccer team won the Interscholastic league; hockey and basketball thrived and even swimming and rugby were thrown in to an already full sports program.

This success was due to many reasons. Firstly, athletics were managed by strong executives, headed by the hard working presidents, Alberta Griggs and Hugh Kennedy. Secondly, athletics were given whole hearted support by last year's editor of the Quill, Lorne Umphrey. And finally, both the students body and the faculty showed a spirit toward athletics which had never been greater.

That, in brief, is last year's history in sport. But what about this year's? That remains to be seen. At the head of the athletics associations we again have two hard workers, Miss Smallshaw and Art Brown. The Quill will give the heartiest co-operation to athletics. The faculty has proven itself by every test. Therefore, it remains for the students of Brandon College to put athletics over with a "bang". Can we do it?

RE CHAPEL SERVICE.
(A Suggestion.)

A new College year is beginning and it is now in order to suggest any improvements which might be made.

One improvement, which, in the minds of many students might be carried out, is to post an advance list of chapel speakers either daily or weekly.

Many students miss an address given by a visiting speaker because they are unaware that he is in charge of the service. While it is true in theory that every student should attend Chapel service daily and that announcements are made previous to a speakers' appearance, it is not to be concluded that all students should know of a visitor appearance, because all students unfortunately do not attend Chapel service daily. Not only do they miss hearing important speakers but they also miss the talks of their favorite professors because they do not know who is conducting the service.

Many do not wish to go to Chapel, not knowing who is speaking. Rather than do this many stay away thinking there will only be a mediocre service. No Chapel service is mediocre.

If a list of Chapel speakers for the week were posted, it would increase the attendance at Chapel. Posting a list would in no ways lessen the number who always attend daily and it would attract many of the loungers who gather in the up-stairs hall during Chapel service

It is hoped by many students that our Faculty will favour this suggestion and post daily or weekly advance list of Chapel speakers.

Shaw.—"Your coffee is a special brand from South America."

Hunter (sarcastically). — "Oh, so that's where you've been all this time."

Agent.—"Is the master of the house in?"

Mr. Westcott.—"Yes, he's upstairs in his cradle."

Bachinski.—"What is the title of the book you are looking for?"

King.—"I'm not quite sure but I know it begins with 'The'."

Nurse Fielder.—"Your room-mate must be absolutely quiet. Here's a sleeping draught."

Marion. — "When must I give it to her?"

Nurse Fielder.—"You don't; you take it yourself."

Mr. Anderson.—"What are the three most important races of mankind?"

Thorman.—"The hundred, two-hundred and half mile."

"Your car is without," said the cop to the diner in a cafe.

"Without what?" asked the diner. "Lights", said the cop. "Name and address please."

I understand", began the large scrappy looking politician, "dat youse had a piece in your paper calling me a thief."

"You have be misinformed, Sir," said the editor calmly, "this paper publishes only news."

O. M. Ritchie.—"Do you want a talking-machine in your house?"

Ethel.—"Oh, this is so sudden."

COLLEGE SOCIAL SEASON OPENS.

though no one seemed able to decide on the winning team, the controversy was called off when supper was announced and a hearty meal served under the trees to the hungry hikers. Some energetic spirits were even yet clamoring for action, so a game of dodge ball was organized. As it grew dusk, wood was gathered, and all drew around the blazing camp fire for a jolly sing-song led by A. MacLachlan. The Senior Stick voiced the appreciation of the student body to Ruth Wade, Doreene McGuinness and their committee for their splendid organization of the hike and another very pleasant day was again brought to an end by "Hail Our College" and "Hippi Skippi."

All the old students were particularly delighted by the large attendance at these two functions, and they say that these are only a sample of the good times in store for the Brandon College students of 1932-33.
