

THE QUILL

PUBLISHED BY THE UNDERGRADUATES OF BRANDON COLLEGE

EDITORIAL

Are you completely contented? We want to know. To date, "THE QUILL BOX" (you all know where it is, right beside the B.C. Office Door) has given forth but one (1) contribution. After all, it is YOUR perfectly good money which is keeping us in circulation - we would like your interest as well.

Are you satisfied with the "QUILL"? Fine, we're glad to hear it! Are you one of those rare individuals who think they have no suggestions for improvement around the College? That's pleasant, too, but we think that there are too many of you. So if you are the one who has this comfortable happiness settled about you, write an article on it, please. We will be delighted to publish it.

But the rest of you! Tell us about it - that's what the "QUILL" is for. Don't be frightened. We are asking you again to help us.

And our literary lights - you have a chance here to do your share. The first Monthly Issue of the "QUILL" will be published a week from today. Contributions intended for it should be in the "QUILL BOX" by Monday evening. Some clever people type them first. It's a nice habit!

Surely all the people interested in the "QUILL" are not on its staff. (Waken up! It's all we ask.

THEY'RE OFF ! COME ON COLLEGE !

Tomorrow the College hooks up with the Tech. School Normal, and Collegiate in the battle of the century, namely the Interscholastic Track and Field Meet. This is the second event in the competition for the Inter-Scholastic Cup and the College will be making a strong bid for points. Our athletes expect the keenest kind of opposition, and a large number of the faithful are expected to turn out to indulge in a few good rousing cheers for Alma Mater!

There is no admission charge. Bring your friends and your lungs and come prepared for some fun. We're going to yell the Teachers into the dust, drown out the Collegiate boys and girls, and take the Mechanics for a nice long ride.

COMING EVENTS

Friday, October 20th 8.00 P.M. Debate Grade XII vs Arts II
 Saturday, October 21st 1.15 P.M. Inter-Scholastic Track Meet.
 Monday, October 23rd - Girls Softball, College vs Normal
 Wednesday, October 25th, Girls Softball, College vs. Collegiate Friday, October 27th - Halloween Party.

DEBATE TONIGHT

Tonight at 8.00 o'clock sharp - rain or shine - Arts II are scheduled to clash in the first Debate of the season with Grade VII. The subject "Resolved that Canada will be more prosperous under a system equivalent to the N.R.A." Mr. William Fletcher, Esq., and his supporter Bill Clement are carrying the standard for Grade VII on the affirmative side, while Bob Moffat and Lorne Palethorpe for Arts II will endeavor to prove to the Judges and others who may be present that the two "Bills" are entirely in the wrong.

Debates do not have a universal appeal, but the interest of the subject together with the promise of lively discussion, is expected to draw a good crowd. If you can finish your synopsis in time, it will be worth your while to come early and get a good seat.

An interview with the Senior Stick !

With this issue we present the first in a series of sketches describing outstanding students whose achievements and personalities have won them a prominent place in Brandon College life. Today we present for your edification and amusement our genial Senior Stick, Mr. George McGregor. Widely known for his stories and home-made puns, George has at the same time demonstrated an energy and ability that augers well for his success as Senior Stick this year. "Two bits, please, George."

As we entered the palatial offices of Mr. McGregor, we could not help but be impressed by the beautiful mahogany furnishings, the tiers upon tiers of filling cabinets which contained, we later discovered, the latest data on every feminine member of our vast student body, and above all, the quiet effie-

IN THE FOOTLIGHT'S GLOW

The Lit. Season has begun! And the promise is of entertainment more ridiculous, more hilarious, more absorbing - to be brief - more varied and enthusiastic than ever. But it was not perfect - Oh, No!

Grade XII's contribution to the open Lit. was weak, decidedly weak. "A Mock Marriage" would not have been a credit to the Senior class in a Collegiate, which we must remember our Grade XII would be if they were not our freshmen. Allowance made for the haste in which the first Lit. is always prepared, we still say it was juvenile. But we may say that it was done whole-heartedly. With the use of what originally the class possesses, and some good hard work, Grade XII should be able to give the other years some real competition for the Lit Shield.

Tap dancing came in for a full share or more on Friday's program. Every class but '34 had its solo dancer. Grade XII, Laurie Colquhoun, Arts II, Helen Pedersen, and Arts III, Molly Bell. Why co-operation could not have eliminated this repetition is a mystery. Perhaps each class was supposed to be ignorant of what the others were doing. Was this necessary?

Evidently we are to sing, and sing again, this year. Friday's music was, we think superior to the usual fare offered on the opening night. A "male quintette" George McGregor, Jack Edmison, Frank Samis, Bert Fraser and Bob McCulloch, in "O, Mona", perhaps the outstanding "hit" of the evening, just goes to prove what we said before about co-operation. When the dividing line between classes is slackened, we get real results. A trio of boys, Bert Fraser, Bill Clement, and Shirley Prugh sang "Lazy-Bones." Arts II's theme song? The girls of the same class showed their ability in a dreamy chorus. In "School Days", Arts III looking very young indeed, voiced their contribution as a unit. And our favorite pianist, Peggy Sharpe was also representing Arts III, the finish of her delightful solo belying her rddmpered appearance.

The only "weighty" item on the program was given, fittingly enough, by Arts IV. Seriously undertaken, the play was very successful. Each player was particularly suited to his part - our only criticism being, that from the front seats, at least, it was obvious that much of the play was being read.

The final number, again by Arts III, was "Willyum Tell" We were so heartily amused, that our critical powers were rather overwhelmed. For sheer nonsense - and real enjoyment on the part of the actors - it was a happy conclusion.

mony that pervaded all. To our surprise, we had no difficulty in obtaining an interview with Mr. McGregor - in fact he sent out word for us to hurry into his private sanctum. We found Mr. McGregor very easy to talk to - in fact we didn't have to say a word.

Like Mr. Bennett, Mr. McGregor is a bachelor. He does not think the gold standard is a good thing, but as you probably know, is strong supporter of the Wool or Wheat Standard theory. With regard to the political situation we quote his own words, "I feel that a party including Liberal, Conservative, Farmer, Labour, C.C.F., S.C.M., and others, led by myself, is the only solution to the problem. We must get behind the wheels of industry and pull ourselves out of the depression." For the sake of the ladies we put this question, "Do you prefer blondes or brunettes, Mr. McGregor," Our pride and joy rolled his eyes thoughtfully after a certain dark-haired damsel who was passing, and resting his chin lovingly in one hand, replied in this vein "Well, frankly, I'd like to Gainer but I have to do my Tootie!"
 (Ed. note - Very punk) - By request we publish George's phone number - 2118.

SOCCE R

In the second game of the Inter-Scholastic Football League, the College team stepped on the toes of the Normal School to the tune of 8 - 1. The game was one-sided and slow as the College boys had it all over the Teachers, scoring at will and obtaining the ball almost at will. Camerson, freezing to death between the College goal posts was very much out of the game. In fact he hardly ever saw the elusive pigskin. The games Tuesday, left the College and the Technical School tied for first place, while Collegiate and Normal were languishing in the cellar without a single point to their credit. At press time, the College team was battling nobly against Collegiate to maintain its place at the top of the heap.

We want to know if "Dodo" was really seen at a dance with his great-aunt.

Then too there is the one about the irate motorist who phoned the Taxidermist for a mounted policeman.
