

Practicable Land Nationalization.

By this time a large proportion of Radicals and other genuine Social Reformers have become fully convinced that no proper settlement of the Land Question—whether in Ireland or Great Britain—can be attained except in accordance with the principles of Land Nationalization. The resolution of the Trades' Union Congress at Dundee (September, 1889), and the programme adopted by the Metropolitan Radical Federation (April, 1890), show that both London and provincial workers agree on this point.

But although the principle of the collective ownership of the soil is now so widely accepted, comparatively little attention is paid to the practical methods of giving effect to that principle. Whilst the Land Nationalisation Society (11, Southampton Street, Strand, London, W.C.), advocates the State purchase of the landlords' rights, and the English Land Restoration League (8, Duke Street, Adelphi, London, W.C.), insists on the Taxation of Land Values, many other means of carrying out the principle of Land Nationalization are neglected. For want of a more detailed and practical programme, Parliament is even permitted to sanction the alienation of public glebe lands and tithes; the London County Council is allowed to vote the sale of its Metropolitan land; and the Liberal leaders are forgiven their persistent hankering after Leasehold Enfranchisement in England, Peasant Proprietorship in Ireland, and the other obsolete ideals of the "Free Land" school.

The Fabian Society asserts* the necessity of the extinction of private property in land, which enables private individuals idly to appropriate, in the form of Rent, the price for permission to use the earth, as well as for the advantages of superior soils and sites.† Until all such payments are either made to the public through their representative institutions, or else recovered from the private landholders by taxation of their incomes, the benefits arising from the value of the nation's land can never be equitably shared by the whole people.

* See Prospectus of the Fabian Society.

† The difficulty of stopping short at mere "Land" Nationalization is set forth in Fabian Tract No. 7, "Capital and Land."

But the acceptance of a principle is not in itself sufficient to ensure reform. The principle must be applied to the actual circumstances of practical politics in each particular time and place, in order that the Member of Parliament, the Town or County Councillor, the Vestryman, and the Elector himself, may realise the opportunities which daily present themselves for the adoption of the principle.

Believing in the collective control by the people themselves of the country in which they live, the Fabian Society suggests the following for Radicals and Socialists, and all other Social Reformers who are in favor of Land Nationalisation :—

PRACTICAL PROGRAMME.

1. That all existing public rights over land and its rent be carefully preserved and not alienated ; for instance :—

- (a) That the London County Council and other public bodies should never sell any land they become possessed of.
- (b) That no sale of Glebe Lands, Charity Lands, or Tithes in Ecclesiastical or other public ownership be permitted.
- (c) That no Crown Lands be sold, or Crown leaseholds allowed to be "enfranchised."
- (d) That all existing commons, footpaths, roadside wastes, rights of way, fishings, &c., &c., be carefully maintained, especially by local public authorities.
- (e) That no measure of Land Purchase for occupying ownership, peasant proprietorship, or leasehold enfranchisement, be permitted, whether in Ireland or Great Britain.*

2. That all financial reforms leading in the direction of the taxation of land values be strongly supported, such as :—†

- (a) The abolition or even the mere diminution of Customs and Excise.
- (b) The taxation of Ground Rents and Values.
- (c) The rating of vacant land, including parks and squares to which the public are not admitted ; and the collection of rates upon them and upon empty houses.
- (d) The division of rates between owner and occupier.
- (e) The graduation and differentiation of the Income Tax.
- (f) The re-assessment of the Land Tax.
- (g) The equalisation, increase, and graduation of the death duties.
- (h) The special taxation of the unearned increment.

3. That the present private rights of individual owners of land and its modifications be gradually limited in the public interest, as by :—

- (a) Compelling owners of unused agricultural land to cultivate or sell it.
- (b) Compelling the amplest possible precautions against accidents in mines, quarries, &c., and on railways, &c.
- (c) Limiting railway rates and charges.

* See Fabian Tract No. 11, "The Workers' Political Programme."

† See Fabian Tract No. 5, "Facts for Socialists."

- (d) Limiting the hours of work in mines, on railways and tramways, on all public monopolies, and wherever else possible.*
 - (e) Enforcing against house owners all necessary sanitary laws,
 - (f) Granting public access to lakes, rivers, and all natural waters; to mountains, river and lake margins, foreshores, and other lands where no damage will be done by "trespassing."
 - (g) Reserving to the public authorities all future unearned increment of land values.
 - (h) Reform of the present system of granting excessive compensation for property taken for public objects without deduction for the owner's misuse or neglect.
4. That public authorities gradually take over all leading public services:
- (a) The municipalization of all waterworks, gasworks, tramways, &c.†
 - (b) The public provision and maintenance of all schools, libraries, &c.
 - (c) The public supply and maintenance of artisans' dwellings, allotments, cottages, &c.
 - (d) The public administration of railways and canals.
 - (e) The nationalization of mining royalties.
 - (f) Acquisition by public authorities of land whenever and wherever possible.

* See Fabian Tract No. 9, "An Eight Hours Bill."

† See Fabian Tract No. 8, "Facts for Londoners."

All candidates for public offices, whether for Parliament, for Town or County Councils, or for Vestries or Local Boards, should be asked whether they accept these proposals. Suitable questions are given in Fabian Tract No. 11, "The Worker's Political Programme."

This is, of course, not a complete programme, even of Land Nationalization; and complete Land Nationalization would itself leave other reforms still necessary. But every proposal in this programme could be immediately carried out by the present administrators of our public affairs without injustice or disturbance. Many of them, indeed, relate to matters already within the discretion of public authorities, and left unheeded only because the attention of Land Nationalizers has not been directed to them.

NOTE ON COMPENSATION.—The Compensation to Landlords which Land Nationalizers rightly resist must not be confounded with payments made by public bodies to private owners for plots of land required for direct use by the public or their representatives. As the funds for such purchases must be obtained by increased burdens on land values, the payment will not really be an indemnity, but simply a means of compelling the entire landlord class to share the loss that would otherwise fall on the single member whose particular plot of land was required, and who would thus be ruined, whilst the rest of the landlords enjoyed their property undisturbed. Public opinion would never sanction so partial a proceeding, and it is therefore certain that land nationalized in this way will always be purchased at the expense of the landowners generally.

FABIAN SOCIETY.

(ESTABLISHED 1883.)

THE FABIAN SOCIETY consists of Socialists. A statement of its Principles, Rules, Conditions of Membership, etc., can be obtained from the Secretary, at 2L Hyde Park Mansions, London, N.W. Also the following publications:—

“FABIAN ESSAYS IN SOCIALISM.”

(22nd Thousand.)

A full exposition of modern English Socialism in its latest and maturest phase. The book consists of eight monographs by G. BERNARD SHAW, SYDNEY OLIVIER, SIDNEY WEBB, WILLIAM CLARKE, HUBERT BLAND, GRAHAM WALLAS, and ANNIE BESANT. The frontispiece is by WALTER CRANE.

Library Edition, 6s.; direct from the Secretary for Cash, 4/6 (postage 4½d.)

Cheap Edition, Paper cover (published by Walter Scott, 24 Warwick Lane, London), 1s.; ditto, plain cloth, 2s. At all booksellers, or post free from the Secretary for 1s. and 2s. respectively.

FABIAN TRACTS.

To be obtained from the Publisher, JOHN HEYWOOD, Deansgate and Ridgefield, Manchester, and 1 Paternoster Buildings, London; or from the Secretary at above address.

No 1.—Why are the Many Poor? 25th thousand. Price 6 for 1d., 1s. per 100.

No 5.—Facts for Socialists. A comprehensive survey of the distribution of income and the condition of classes in England, gathered from official returns, and from the works of well-known economists and statisticians. Authorities given for all the figures. 25th thousand, 16 pp., 1d., or 9d. per doz.

No 7.—Capital and Land. A similar survey of the distribution of property, with a criticism of the distinction sometimes set up between Land and Capital as instruments of production. 10th thousand. 16 pp., 1d.; or 9d. per doz.

No 8.—Facts for Londoners. An exhaustive collection of statistical and other information relating to the County and City of London, with suggestions for Municipal Reform on Socialist principles. 5th thousand. 56 pp., 6d.; or 4/6 doz.

No 9.—An Eight Hours Bill in the form of an amendment of the Factory Acts, with further provisions for the improvement of the conditions of Labor. Very full notes explain the Trade Option clause and the principles and precedents on which the Bill is founded. A list of literature dealing with the question of the limitation of the hours of labor is appended. 20th thousand. 16 pp., 1d.; or 9d. doz.

No 10.—Figures for Londoners. (a short abstract of No. 8). 10th thousand. 4 pp., 6 for 1d.; 1s. per 100.

No 11.—The Workers' Political Programme fully explains the politics of to-day from the working class point of view, and gives questions to put to Parliamentary candidates, with reasons for asking them. 10th thousand. 20 pp., 1d.; or 9d. per doz.

No 12.—Practicable Land Nationalization. A brief statement of practical proposals for immediate reform. 20th thousand. 4 pp., 6 for 1d.; or 1s. per 100.

No 13.—What Socialism Is. A short exposition of the aim of Socialists. 30th thousand. 4 pp., 6 for 1d.; or 1s. per 100.

No 14.—The New Reform Bill. A draft Act of Parliament providing for Adult Suffrage, Payment of Members and their election expenses, Second Ballot, and a thorough system of Registration, with full notes and precedents. 10th thousand. 20 pp., 1d.; or 9d. per doz.

No 15.—English Progress towards Social Democracy. An account of the evolution of English Society, with explanation of Socialism. 16 pp., 1d.; 9d. per doz.

No 16.—A Plea for the Eight Hours Bill. A brief answer to objectors. 8 pp., 6 for 1d.; 1s. per 100.

The LECTURE LIST, containing the names of sixty lecturers, who offer their services gratuitously, may be obtained on application to the Secretary. Upwards of 1,000 lectures were delivered by members during the year ended in March, 1890.